The Power to Nutritionally Manage Your Pet's
Dental Health

Periodontal disease is the most commonly diagnosed disease among U.S. pets, affecting at least 60 to 80% of dogs and cats<sup>1</sup>. Daily dental care, along with regular cleanings from your veterinarian, can help reduce the risk of serious dental problems and increase the quality of your pet's life. That's why Purina® Pro Plan® Veterinary Diets DH Dental Health® Canine and Feline Formulas were developed with a patented kibble texture and have been shown to significantly reduce the accumulation of tartar, along with high-quality nutrient blends for everyday feeding.

Advanced Nutrition
